

Timeline: Anthony Pintard

This timeline for Anthony Pintard comes from the Hutchins Family Summary originally prepared by Blanche Aubin Clarkson Hutchison in the Spring of 1999. The summary was a compilation of extensive research on her Hutchins family in New York, New Jersey, North Carolina, Florida and Mississippi. It was written in four chronological sections, and each section was followed by a timeline of records for that period. In 2017, I have set about to reorganize and update the summary for inclusion on my Family Stories website. I have retained the four original sections, but have removed most of the timeline items to individuals in the website database. This timeline is a result of the reorganization. A small amount of updated material has been added. Pamela Hutchison Garrett, November 2017.

1660; A Pintard descendant and researcher, Harris H. Johnston of Clayton, MO, wrote in a 1915 letter to Lucy Hutchins Wells, that Antoine Pintard was born about 1660 in Rochelle, France. He states he has in his possession many family papers, records and letters and has devoted much time to arranging them and compiling copious notes. But he gives no proof of the date and place of Antoine's birth.

1671; An undated document of the Island of St. Christopher lists 1200 residents including Antoine Pintard.

question – Does this discount 1660 birthdate; were there two Antoine Pintards?

1686, Nov 16; Arrival in New York of a group of 54 Huguenot refugees from the islands of Martinique and St. Christopher. Heads of family were: Alexandre Allaire, Elie de Bonrepos, Jean Boutillier, Isaac Caillaud, Ami Canche, Daniel Duchemin, Pierre Fleuriau, Daniel Gombauld, Etienne Hamel, Jean Hastier, Pierre Jouneau, Jacques Lasty, Guillaume le Conte, Pierre le Conte, Josias le Vrain, Benjamin l'Hommedieu, Elie Pelietreau, Jean Neufville, Eliu Papin, ANTOINE PINTARD, Andre Thauvet, Jacob Theroulde, Rene Tongrelou, Louis Bongrand, Etienne Bouyer, Gilles Gaudineau, Jean Machet, Isaac Mercier, Paul Merlin, Jean Pelletreau, and Etienne Valleau.

note - This source says the Governor of Canada received this report with 54 names from New York. It would help to locate the exact communication and see the other 24 names.

1689; Statement of the area of Sevennes (France). Being those accused by Bringuier, Vivens, Bertezenne, and other practitioners, for having called assemblies and attended them. They are listed in 200 groups, each group having 10 families.

In group #40 (last) is Francois Pintarde and his whole family from Frechaussel Parish de La Salle. Note #6 says "condemned to the galleys, 1689").

In group #130 is Magdelaine Pintard, de la Cabanarie, of Moissac Parish. Note #2 says: see a predicante (maiden name?) of this name, Cros. O. Dover, The First Pastors of The Desert, t.II, p. 103-Cf.n192.

Should we see this confusing text (and citation) again? It possibly is a reference to a book about first Protestant pastors in the Wilderness. Magdelaine Pintarde, wife of David Vielle, of Baume (town), Peyrolles Parish. Note #3 says Cf n.64. Reference to Pintard, Predicted de Cros (gard) at 142-n, but I can't find it.

In group #190 is Susanne Pintard, from same place as Magdelaine (above), Parish of Moissac. Another from same place is Samuel Pintard. I am proposing that Samuel and Magdelaine are siblings or parents of our Antoine Pintarde of St. Christopher.

1695, Oct 19; Documents. Prisoners at D'Aigues:Deaths & Witnesses. A Warning for Margarite Pintard, the 19 Oct 1695 in the afternoon, in the home of Michelle Jacquett, a Royal Judge at D'Aigues-mortes (town). Antoine Viala, charge-de-Tonnelier, who lives in D'Sommiers (gard) states that his niece, Margarite Pintard from LaSalle (gard) was taken to the prison at Aigues-mortes by order of the governor, monseigneur d'Lamoignon. She was sent there pursuant to an order of the senior intendant. According to Viala, these cautions were issued from the department of good conduct. Witnesses: Sister Jean Dumier, doctor of medicine. Notary Public, Jean Dassas.Viala never signed.
Margarite Pintard is a young girl who practices this religion, of whom Claude Brousson spoke with great admiration. We knew she had been in prison. Brousson presented her as being from Cros and not from LaSalle. The presence of a doctor close to the notary suggested that she was sick, and it is not known in which tower she was imprisoned. *Translation of another record indicates she was in the Tower of Constance.

1759; American merchantmen traded in the West Indies, and with the French at Cape Breton Isle. See documents on the illicit trade at PRO, London 308/78f, 149. Anthony Pintard's son, John Lewis Pintard, ran trade ships. We should investigate. Peak illicit traffic with French sailing ships was 1759-60. As late as 1762 Amherst complained of the infamous trade carried on with the enemy, supplying them with provisions from almost every port on this continent. Amherst to Hale, 8 May 1762 @ PRO, London, Admiralty 1/3819. [source] Leach, R of C, p.159-62.
